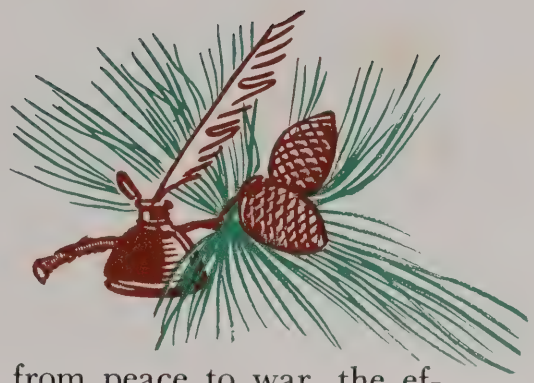
DEDICATION

BECAUSE HE HAS CONTRIBUTED MUCH TOWARD THE GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF WESTHAMPTON HIGH SCHOOL; BECAUSE HIS IDEAL FOR THE SCHOOL HAS AIDED IN MAINTAINING A HIGH SCHOLASTIC STANDARD; BECAUSE HIS CO-OPERATION HAS ENABLED WESTHAMPTON TO WIN MANY HONORS; AND BECAUSE HIS INTEREST IN THE STUDENTS HAS ENCOURAGED THE PROGRESS OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES, WE DEDICATE THIS SECOND VOLUME OF

PINES AND PENS TO

IRA OWENS BEATY

Foreword



In the early stages of transition from peace to war, the effects of conflict are but barely distinguishable—such is the case at Westhampton High School. Although many students are enlisted in defense work; although air raid precautions have become familiar, Westhampton, outwardly, is as she ever was—calm and peaceably belligerent.

Yet, in this war, as in the last, knowing that drastic changes must come; knowing that schools will be greatly influenced by America's defense effort; knowing that many activities and occurrences will be curtailed; we wish to preserve for the future a picture of a democratic organization still at peace.

This second volume of Pines and Pens has attempted, as unassumingly as possible, to capture, before it is further changed, the graphic story of life at Westhampton.

SENIOR CLASS

In September, the Seniors of '42 began their last year of high school. With their last year came the long awaited events that mark the life of a Senior.

According to tradition, the Senior Government classes at Westhampton go to Washington in early spring to visit points of interest; however, the Seniors voted to take their trip in November.

In December, orders were taken for class jewelry; in January, the rings, bracelets, and pins arrived, and were displayed to the envy of the underclassmen. In January, too, the Senior class was measured for caps and gowns.

The Senior play, The Charm School, was presented in May. With spring also came the excitement of ordering invitations and beginning rehearsals for graduation exercises, and commencement night procedure.

The Seniors are not only interested in their class; they are actively a part of the Student Council; many are members of clubs and organizations; they have supported school dances and projects. As a class, they have contributed much to the life of Westhampton.

Suspects in Theft of Bomber Plans Held for Investigation

Any similarity to anything that has happened, or will happen, is, or could be entirely accidental.

Richmond, June 9, 1952 (AP)—The F. B. I. announced today the theft of the plans for the Navy bomber M-2180 from the briefcase of naval architect Captain Robert McDanel.

The blueprints disappeared at the Club Roxyette, operated by Charles Guttas, where the class of '42, Westhampton High School, held its reunion yesterday. Captain McDanel was dancing with Margaret Murry, famous legato dancer, when a short circuit occurred. The lights went out, and the plans were stolen from his briefcase.

Members of the party are all under suspicion and are held at the city jail, pending trial under the Left Honorable Judge Harry Thompson.

The F. B. I. is conducting an investigation. Several of the group are thought to be members of the Snazi spy ring and are being held without bond. Robert Kaufelt, truck driver, is the alleged leader of the ring. Under him are Sally Engleman, known for her connections with the Snazi government; Malcolm Engstrom, banker; Alice Holzhauer, nurse; Helen Schaaf, home economics expert; Foster Johann, play boy; and Helen Schindler, commercial artist.

Upon inquiry, Betty Luebbert, Margie Ford, and Carmine Clay, members of the chorus at the Roxyette who were on the floor at the time, could recall nothing. John Hall, the bartender, and Ann Lowry, featured torch singer, were also questioned but would not talk.

Judge Thompson has charged Harry Allen, manufacturer of Screw Driver Cars, also at the reunion, with swiping screws because of the shortage. His secretary, Alice Long, was seen taking notes on the number of screws he had accumulated. The Judge has had some difficulty with Sweetums, a sick horse belonging to Johnny Corley, maker of Horse-Drawn Station Wagons, and has called in Dr. John Proffitt, H.D. (Horse Doctor) to handle the case. Nurse Thelma Gentry has been on duty by Sweetums' cot since early this morning.

Head-Scrubwoman Ann Kritzer, of the city hoosegow, told Police Sergeant Ben Parker that two of her assistants, Effie May Nuckols and Anne McGeorge, former Miss America of 1946, overheard two of the prisoners, Gladys Miles of the Two Thousand Miles, and Barbara Urban of the Sub Urbans, talking. Miss Miles was heard saying, "I hid them in the cot." Scrubwoman Nuckols believed her to be talking about the plans; however it was found to be Sweetums' bag of wild oats.

Senator Perry Seay, Jr. and his wife, Jene Carr, former ladies' wrestling champion, expressed indignation at being held on such a charge and added that they would write to their senator.

Irene White, editor of the New York Daily Moon, and Page Boisseau, business manager of the Moon and recently in the headlines for embezzling some of its funds, are well-known figures involved. Miss White has threatened to write a heated editorial on the jail system if she is not fed within the next twenty-four hours.

General Jeanne Gilbert MacChreits, member of the General Staff of the United States Army, and Miss Jane Bentley, sponsor of the Army, are also present. General MacChreits previously stated that she gained her experience in out-maneuvering the enemy during her days at W. H. S.

Admiral "Hanky" Corley and Ensign Nancy Foster were interned on the U. S. Battleship Moonshine, anchored just off Boscher's Dam.

Leslie Woodburn, producer for Preposterous Pictures, Inc., and photographer James Hawkins are using their temporary internment to shoot the forthcoming drama, "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage," starring Pat Stovall, another of the alumni. Mr. Woodburn declined to confirm the rumor that Oomph-Girl Grace Tinsley and It-Girl Edna Hicks are on the brink of matrimony.

Arrested also were Eleanor Barnby (who started her own broadcasting station in competition with other networks) and several of her staff—Lula Rainey, daily lecturer on home economics; Peggy Snyder, well-known physical fitness director; and Mabel Turner, who "Teaches You to Dance on Air in Two Easy Lessons."

The fire department was summoned to the jail today following a call from a citizen who saw large clouds of smoke from one of the cell windows. Fire Chief Miles Rudisill went in with his battle axe but found it only to be chemist Myron Yagel testing, "They Smoke Themselves," mechanical cigarettes, manufactured by Walter Harris.

The F. B. I. wishes to announce that two of the alumni are missing, because of circumstances beyond its control. The janitor of the Roxyette, Bobby Lowe, is sweeping under the table trying to locate Marie Peachee, psychologist, and Madame Bettuska Adam, alias Betty Adams, fortune teller.

Sue Woodson, steam shovel operator, was given a ticket for careless and reckless driving in front of the jail today. Miss Woodson protested the charge, stating that she was merely trying to remove Frances Waters, Arax Shahinian, Laura Mae Webster, and Eloise Gordon, Secretaries, from the office of Leonard Rudlin, author of the current best-seller My New Order. Mr. Rudlin is suffering from bad bruises and nurse Norma Hepford would allow no one to see him.

There will be a recital at the city jail tonight. Pianist Lucille Henley will accompany Romaine Boykin and Maxine Warriner in a duet, "There's Something About a Soldier."

Patsy Rudisill, Anne Watkins and Adelaide Savage, also alumni, are dissatisfied with police fashions and are spending their internment improving the uniforms. Joyce Ready, paper hanger, and Dorothy Boyd, house painter, under the direction of Dick Wiltshire, originator of Comfy Cozy House, are decorating their cells in pink and blue. Warren Martin, electrical engineer, is experimenting with an electric torch on the bars of his cell. Richard Andrews, otherwise known as Rip Van Andrews, has slept through the entire proceedings. Matron Penny Brock and Judge Thompson, suffering from these unusual events, are under the care of veterinarian Dorothy Stewart, who stated that rest and Itsy-Bitsy Dog Biscuits should bring recovery.

The other suspects include Grayson (Bookie De Bum) Wooldridge and James (Jimmy de Joik) Hubbard, racketeers who have served terms in the State Pen; Katsy Stump, designer for Bigger and Better Cars, Inc.; Argell Eubank, chairman of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce; and Lucille Young, owner of the Pine Needle Tourist Home.

The F. B. I. is conducting a cell-to-cell census of opinion as to who the thief really is. The winner gets the chair. The result has not yet been made public so everyone is hanging in suspense.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class made its annual trip to historic Williamsburg early in the year, and returned even more filled with intellect and culture than ever before.

Active and full of enthusiasm, the Juniors gave their ideas to the development of the student government. They campaigned vigorously at election time for their candidates, and sent representatives to the Student Council meetings.

Many members of the class participate in club work; several of the clubs at Westhampton are headed by Juniors. Membership in the honorary organization, the Corridor Club, is restricted to Juniors.

They were present at dances and student sponsored programs. They have entered into and taken their part in the affairs of Westhampton.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

THE MEEK FRESHMEN of last year returned in September, 1941 as Sophomores—more able and more confident. Early in the school year the class organized, as a Sophomore activity, the Cafeteria Club—their contribution to the upkeep of the school. Always interested in a good time, the Sophomores sponsored two dances, one of which was given in co-operation with the Freshmen.

They have eagerly joined clubs and participated in the extra-curricular activities open to them. The Sophomores, interested in student government, sent representatives to the Student Council and cast their votes in the election. They have entered into the intra-mural sports and supported the defense projects wholeheartedly.

Student Government

Student government came to Westhampton this year, and got off to a fine start. Representatives from each home room met and drew up a Constitution similar to that of the United States. After a few changes suggested by students had been made, the home rooms voted unanimously for the new Constitution. The Student Council consists of a higher and lower board. On the higher board are representatives from each class; on the lower board, representatives from each home room, each club, the the Diplomat, and Pines and Pens. The presidential candidates were chosen by the Student Council, to be voted on by the entire student body. After several days of enthusiastic campaigning, on February 13, the students elected Charles Guttas as their first president. The higher board chose Perry Seay as its chairman; the lower board, Ida Lee Hollingsworth.

The Westhampton Student Council will only have powers to advise and suggest at first, but will gradually assume greater duties, responsibilities, and powers. In this way it is hoped that our new student government will develop into a worth-while and lasting one, to which each of us can point with justifiable pride.

The President of the Student Council is Charles Guttas; the chairman of the Higher Board is Perry Seay, Jr.; the chairman of the Lower Board is Ida Lee Hollingsworth. Members of the Higher Board are: David Boney, David Brown, Jean Coffman, Frank Corley, Billy Hawkins, Edna Hicks, Martha Seay, Dean Snyder, Geraldine Vernon, Reginald Williams, and Connie Young. On the Lower Board are: Betty Adams, Ruth Bowles, Jane Lee Burton, Bobby Fleming, Jean Franklin, Faye Gullatt, Bob Jones, Henry Kolbe, Charles Levey, Madeline Nardi, Anne Palmore, Marie Peachee, John Pleasants, Dorsett Rollings, Leonard Rudlin, Jimmy Sease, Emma Jeanne Spears, Fletcher Stiers, George Vockroth, Irene White, Charles Whitmore, and Grayson Wooldridge.

Chart Club

Unable to pursue its usual policy of presenting a major school attraction this year, the Chart Club participated in several projects throughout the term. Defense played the foremost role in the Club's activities. Defense Stamps sold by members daily during lunch period have amounted to hundreds of dollars; Club members sponsored an "Arms for America" dance on President Roosevelt's birthday—dance tickets were redeemed for Defense Stamps at the door. Programs bringing prominent speakers to Westhampton were presented for Armistice Day and for Thanksgiving Day. Following a precedent set in the Club's first year, the Christmas Pageant was sponsored by the Chart Club.

Members are tapped into the Club at impressive ceremonies conducted twice yearly. Following its charter, members are elected from the most active students in the school, chosen for characteristics of scholarship, leadership, patriotism, and spiritual responsibility.

Cafeteria Club

Having as its aim the desire to make the Cafeteria as pleasant a place as possible in which to eat, the Cafeteria Club was organized in 1941. Membership is limited to those sophomores who show that they are worthy of membership. Consequently all members must be approved by both student and faculty boards.

In order that it can carry out its purpose more efficiently, the Club is divided into two groups. Each group consists of ten members, and each operates for one week alternately. Each member is assigned to a special task in his respective group: some are appointed to route students through the correct exits and entrances; some request students to clear off their tables and return their trays; others maintain order in the lines of students purchasing their lunches.

Under the helpful guidance of our sponsor, Miss Frances L. Bray, and with the complete co-operation of all the students and the faculty, the Cafeteria Club has been successful in accomplishing most of its objectives during its first year of existence.

The chairman of the Cafeteria Club is Buck Levey. Members are: Jane Belk, William Bell, Ernest Crowder, Marian Curtis, Charlotte Ann Dover, Rebecca Drewry, Helen Eubank, Frances Ann Harrison, Mary Jane Hollingsworth, Dorothy Martin, Billy Michael, Gail Murphy, Norris Nardi, Charles Peachee, Stella Tankersley, Florence Terrell, Reggie Williams, Rose Williams, and Cora Winfree.

Corridor Club

Another successful year of service to both the students and the faculty has been completed by the Corridor Club. The organization receives its name from its main purpose—keeping order in the school halls during the six periods of the day. Members of the Club are divided into six groups, each having a chairman responsible for the members assigned to his period. These chairmen are responsible to the chairman of the club, elected by the students to head the organization. Corridor Club work, entailing meeting visitors and patrons and escorting them, enables members to become acquainted with many interesting visitors and to cope with varying circumstances.

Members of the club, distinguished while on duty by gold and blue arm bands, are elected to membership by the recommendation of a faculty committee and the approval of the school principal.

Library Club

Begun in 1936 under the sponsorship of the Westhampton librarian, Miss Loreta Lybrook, the Library Club has continued to grow until it is now one of the largest and most active clubs in Westhampton.

Following its main objectives laid down early in its organization, the Library Club has brought a wholesome curiosity about books to the students. The library, not long ago feared by many, is now the center of much of the student participation activities. The shelves of the library are overflowing; the magazine and the newspaper racks are always well supplied; attractive posters and cut-outs decorate the library.

The Club not only helps make the library attractive but members are all library assistants, who volunteer their services for work at the circulation desk and in the various activities of the library. Club members, schedules permitting, give at least one period a day to work in the library. Although receiving no scholastic credit for library work, members obtain invaluable training in co-operation and in library work.

Knitting Club

Each Tuesday, during activities period, members of the Knitting Club meet in the Homemaking Department. After any necessary business is completed, the girls knit and chat. Having a common bond of interest, the members enjoy working together, and exchanging ideas and viewpoints on local, national, and international current events and topics.

Some members are engaged in making sweaters, socks and mittens for themselves; others knit for British refugees, needy American families, and for service men in our army and navy.

Membership in the Knitting Club is not restricted to Homemaking students only; members may come from any of the homerooms in Westhampton.

Club officers and the advisor, Mrs. Mary Finney Smith, sponsored a high school girls knitting production corps as part of Westhampton's contribution to the American Red Cross and the war effort. Many necessary materials were produced to aid in the National Emergency.

Officers of the Knitting Club are: President, Madeline Nardi; Vice-President, Jean Salasky; Secretary, Ann Lowry; Treasurer, Margaret Thrift. Members are: Mary Auringer, Jane Bentley, Dorothy Boyd, Carmine Butler, Carmine Clay, Regis Gentry, Eloise Gordon, Alice Holzhauer, Alma Jones, Jeanne MacChreits, Clara Mahon, Dorothy Mitchell, Jane Pickels, Nancy Pope, Patsy Rudisill, Nita Shearin, Beatrice Spector, Audrey Stovall, Margaret Thrift, and Irene White.

The Dramatic Club

In an effort to contribute actively to school and community life and to take part in the defense program, the Dramatic Club undertook the following:

(1) to present a series of defense plays for the high school and elementary school students

(2) to broadcast a radio program in a defense series

(3) to present two public performances, one for the benefit of the Red Cross, the other for the school defense fund.

Realizing the need to live a normal life under abnormal conditions, the club tried to discover and develop the dramatic ability of the members by the study and presentation of worthwhile plays at the club meetings and endeavored to encourage and inform the members through discussion led by outstanding people interested in various phases of dramatic art.

Representatives of the Junior Red Cross Council, this year, have done their utmost to maintain the high ideals and standards which were set by foregoing councils. Members have tried to put into practice their motto, "We serve," by performing all types of service to help others.

Wartime requirements have given the Council one of its most active years. Throughout the school, students have knitted sweaters, afghans, and beanies for British War Relief; Christmas packages were sent to British war orphans; Service kits containing essential materials were prepared for our soldiers and sailors; layette sets and toddlers' packs have been put into immediate use at home as well as abroad. In addition, Tuberculosis Christmas Seals were placed on sale, as in previous years; and again Junior Red Cross members sponsored the "March of Dimes" for the President's Birthday.

Unable to maintain international correspondence as in pre-war days, the Council is now placing all emphasis on schools of the Western Hemisphere.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists, numbers over twenty-five hundred chapters. These are located in nearly every state in the Union, and in some cases, in foreign countries. Members from schools which are outstanding in the quality of their publication work wear the badges of the Society.

A chapter was formed at Westhampton in 1940 by four charter members, for the purpose of encouraging and recognizing outstanding ability in journalism and closely connected fields. This organization has taken part in raising standards in creative writing and has done much to improve the student publications.

The Diplomat

The Diplomat is now completing its eighth year as a monthly student publication. The school's first and oldest periodical, member of Quill and Scroll and of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association, sent its two co-editors, Irene White and Betty Adams, and sponsor, Miss Frances L. Bray, to S. I. P. A. Conferences at Washington and Lee University this fall. Highlight of the Conference meetings for the Diplomat staff was the honor award rated by the Diplomat.

The policy of the paper is, as it has always been, to include not only news events but also many columns and comments of popular interest. Faculty advisors who have aided in meeting press deadlines are literary advisors Miss Mary Ann Guy, Miss Frances L. Bray, and business advisor Miss Virginia M. Ingram.

Thoroughly modern and liberal, Diplomat editorials campaigned for student government; Diplomat pages carried not only editorial opinions on the war situations but also a regular column of comments and notes on the war. The paper has always existed for the expression of student opinion; it will continue to hold to that promise.

PINES and PENS

Pines and Pens made its debut in 1941, Westhampton High School's first annual. Although this initial volume was compiled in a very short period, it was of sufficient quality to win first awards at Conferences of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association at Washington and Lee University in the fall.

This second edition began to materialize early last fall when the "dummies" and "make-up" copies were started. Staff conferences were held to decide on a policy and color scheme. Editors and assistants spent hours working on the lay-out of the pages, the theme of the write-ups. The lamp in the copy-room burned long after school had dismissed while copy was written, revised, rewritten. An interesting pictorial volume has emerged, the product of thought and planning. There are more formal and informal shots; there are unbalanced "bleed-off" pages intended to lessen formality; in effect, the outstanding feature of this volume is its trend toward the informal.

The staffs were chosen by students and faculty. The high offices are held principally by seniors; their assistants are juniors. They were carefully selected to fill positions for which they are best suited. Working together, combining ideas and criticisms, they have accomplished their aim—this Pines and Pens, Volume II.

Varsity Club

Lettermen in the major sports—football, basketball, and baseball—at Westhampton comprise the Varsity Club. To be eligible for entrance, initiates must first have earned a gold W for participation in some form of athletics, either as players or managers. Upon receiving their letters, they are automatically elected to membership. The decision of membership is left to the lettermen. Those who wish to join the club are then initiated with varying ceremonies and rituals.

Club meetings are held at appointed places every Tuesday from 8:30 to 10:30. Business affairs occupy the discussion part of meetings, and immediately afterward the meetings are adjourned so that members may engage in recreational activities —bowling, billiards, table tennis—or attend sports affairs. Following a policy set many years ago, social and athletic matters are the main objects and interests of the Varsity Club; the Club seeks to offer its members good, clean fun.

Although club dances and affairs are usually profitless, the club dance in the spring was held to raise money for the Westhampton Athletic Association Fund, around which many Varsity Club activities are centered.

Faculty members connected with the Varsity Club are A. Coke Smith and Thurman Towill.

ATHLETICS

TO OUR COACHES:

To Miss Margaret Purcell and Mr. A. Coke Smith, go our wholehearted thanks and our deepest appreciation for their instruction and co-operation.

Coach Smith developed, in both football and basketball, teams whose records are enviable. Both teams are among the finest in Westhampton's history.

Miss Purcell undertook, early in November, the establishing of Westhampton's first girls' basketball team, marking the introduction of girls' sports at Westhampton.

At the beginning of the baseball season Mr. Thurman Towill replaced Coach Smith as head of athletic activities and coach of our teams.

Not only have our coaches organized teams of merit; but their drilling in strategy, in skill, and in the essence of fair play—win or lose—has been of utmost importance to the students of Westhampton.

Varsity Football

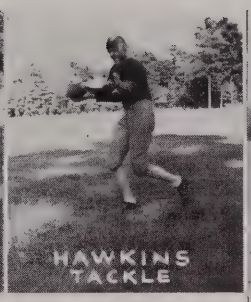
So enthusiastic were the boys of our football squad that some of them started practice even before school opened. Working under a sweltering sun the members of the team combined their qualities of fair play and a will to win to produce a team of which their school is justly proud. As the days wore on strategic plays took shape in the minds of the players and Coach Smith taught them much in skillful handling of the pigskin.

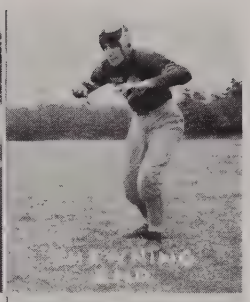
Finally on September 19, the team was given its first chance of the new season: to pit all that the weeks of practice had taught them against an opponent. For their initial game the team traveled to the Virginia Industrial School. Although on strange grounds and matched against a heavier team Westhampton held the score to a 6-6 tie, "Buster" Sutton scoring the Westhampton touchdown.

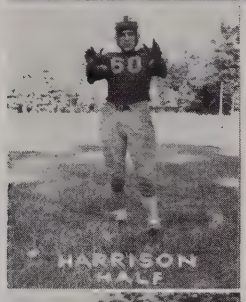
The second game was with one of our old football rivals, Chester High School. Until this year Westhampton has lost more games to Chester than it has won. This year, however, the Diplomats rose above their rival with a 12-0 victory, Sutton again making the running touchdowns.

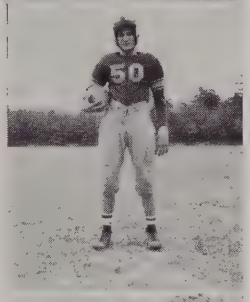
The first game on the home field was with the John Marshall "B" team, in which Westhampton came out victorious by a 26-0 score. "Slick" Holt scored the first touchdown; Sanderson, Harrison, Chewning, and Harris were also outstanding for their playing.

In the next contest Westhampton suffered the first defeat of the season at the hands of Culpepper High School on the opponent's field by a score of 41-6. Harrison made the touchdown.









In an exciting game on the home field the Diplomats defeated Morrison's Farmers 19-0. The whole team played exceptionally good football. "Buck" Harrison, assisted by James Hubbard, scored the three goals; a punt by James Hawkins added the extra point.

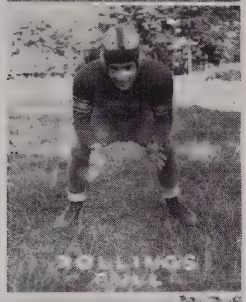
The team next journeyed to Randolph-Macon College to meet the Freshmen there. This was probably the greatest game for the Westhampton eleven. First, "Buster" Sutton ran 60 yards for a touchdown; then Harrison made another spectacular run. Receiving the ball behind his own goal line, Harrison ran 103 yards for another six points. The point by Hawkins' punt left the score 13-0.

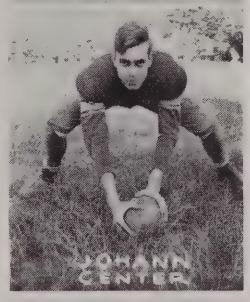
With spectacular runs and power plays Westhampton next conquered Fluvanna High School 20-6. Points were quickly piled up by Hawkins, Holt, and Harrison. Harrison's 80-yard run was the outstanding feature of the game.

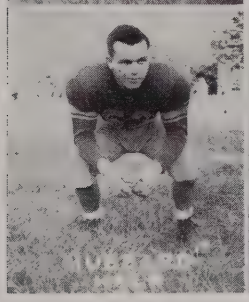
Back on the home field Westhampton saw her boys lose a hard fought contest to Ashland High School by the short end of a 13-6 score. Perry Seay taking a pass from Jimmy Hubbard for our score.

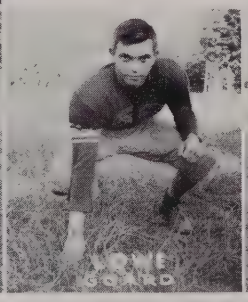
The Diplomats ended their season with another victory, over Highland Springs, on the opponents' field by a 7-0 score. The winning touchdown was made by a 52-yard run by "Buck" Harrison; Hawkins added the extra point.

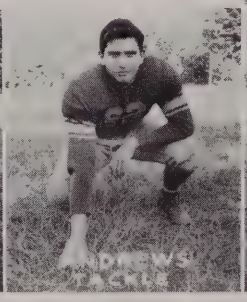
At the end of one of Westhampton's most successful football seasons, records show a total of six victories, two defeats, and one tie.

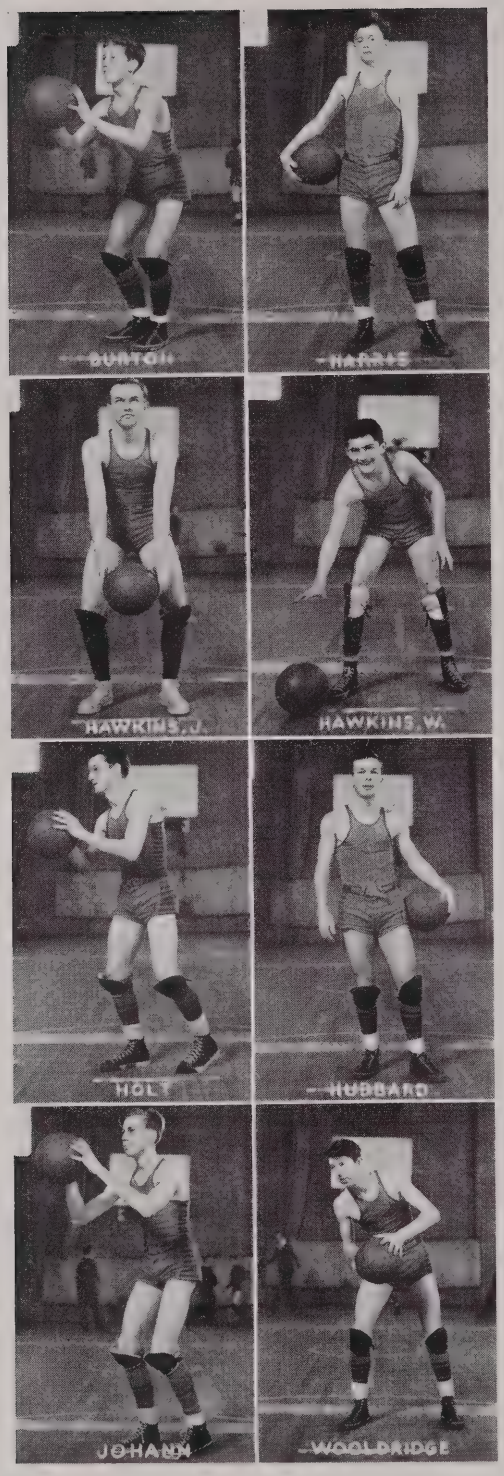












Varsity Basketball

At the beginning of the '42 basketball season, fourteen boys reported to Coach A. Coke Smith for practice. After long hours of hard drills, the boys traveled to Ashland to meet Ashland High School. The final score favored the opponents, 27-13.

The initial game was followed by eight victories and three defeats. Westhampton overcame Highland Springs, 24-13; Varina, 36-22 and 38-18; Thomas Jefferson High School's "B's", 28-26 and 31-30; Glen Allen, 32-17 and 24-16; Chester, 17-12 and 34-13; and Ashland again, 18-12. The Diplomats lost to John Marshall High School's "B's", 18-16 and 26-24; and to James Monroe High School 25-16 and 25-21, the former game probably was the roughest and fastest played contest of the season.

Among some of the hardest fought matches was the Diplomat's third clash of the season with the "B" team from Thomas Jefferson High School. The fourth quarter ended in a tie and the over-time play-off was added. A "Tee-Jay" man sank a foul shot, breaking the tie; but in the last fifteen seconds of play Foster Johann shot the deciding basket for Westhampton and ended the game with a 31-30 score.

Outstanding in many of the games were: Grayson Wooldridge and Campbell Harris, forwards; James Hawkins, center; Woodson Holt and Foster Johann, guards. Teammates Jimmy Hubbard, Thomas Burton, John Hafling, Derwood Harrison, James Pickels, Richard Blank, and Bill Hawkins helped win many of the games. And to Manager Robert Kaufelt must go credit for arranging the equipment and uniforms and keeping team records.

The season ended without Coach Smith, who had left to take a position in another school, and Assistant Principal Chester R. Morrell acted as coach for the remaining games of the season.

Girls Basketball

DURING the past year girls' basketball was introduced to the courts of Westhampton. Under the leadership of Miss Margaret Lee Purcell, the team began practice early in the season. Twenty girls turned out for the drills held every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon. At first the girls practiced in play suits of every description, but soon each member owned the now familiar gold uniform.

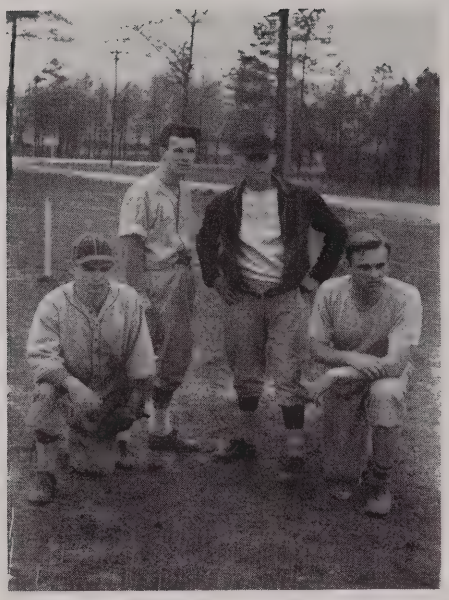
Soon after the opening drills had been started a schedule of games was arranged with high school teams in Richmond and in neighboring counties; one of the final games was scheduled with the team from the Richmond Professional Institute. Peggy Snyder, high-scorer in basketball free-throw tournaments of the past, was elected captain of the team; and Mary Elizabeth Hood was appointed manager for the season.

Afternoon practices drew attention from many of the students who came to watch the drills. The spectators soon became acquainted with the rules of girls' basketball; and six girls, instead of five men, on the floor did not seem so odd.

The opening game of the season was lost to Highland Springs by a 36-24 score. Forwards Peggy Snyder and Betty Ann Gustafson were high scorers; and Jean Franklin was outstanding in her play against enemy forwards. The second game was lost to Varina High School's fast playing team by a 44-29 score. Later games of the season provided too-strong opponents and Westhampton's team lost to James Monroe High School, 27-18; to John Marshall's squad, 42-20; to St. Joseph's Villa, 32-22; to St. Catherine's School, 35-22; to Chester High School's sextette, 24-11 and 29-18; to Thomas Jefferson's varsity, 48-18; to Richmond Professional Institute's team, 48-19 and 23-11; and to St. Gertrude's, 28-21. Playing a fast, close game the Westhampton squad defeated St. Gertrude's School, 27-23 for the first victory of the season. Other victories were over James Monroe High School 23-16; over Varina, 30-29; and over Glen Allen, 28-12.

Playing excellent basketball throughout the season were forwards Peggy Snyder, Betty Ann Gustafson, Page Boisseau, and Jene Carr; and guards Mildred Mancos, Shirley Quirk, Dorothy Boyd, Ida Lee Hollingsworth, and Jean Franklin.

Although the girls' team has not emerged victorious from its first season, it has gained much in experience and in skill. Miss Purcell and the entire team have made girls' basketball a permanent sport for the future.



Baseball

This spring the masculine element of Westhampton has again shown enough enthusiasm to warrant the forming of a baseball team. Early in the season Westhampton acquired a new Coach and athletic director, Mr. T. B. Towill. A few days later the willing coach along with the enthusiastic boys began their gruelling practice and again the crack of bats and the dull thud of ball hitting glove could be heard across the diamond. Since the start of the season the players have shown that they really enjoy baseball and will do everything possible to make theirs a powerful team. As for the individual players no team could have more loyal members, each giving his utmost for the success of his team. From such a beginning has grown another Diplomat baseball team that will make a name for itself in the athletic history of Westhampton.

At date of publication only two practice games had been played, these being with Dumbarton Junior High and St. Christopher. Westhampton was defeated by the scores of 0-6 and 0-2 respectively. Undaunted by these defeats the team is now working with new vigor toward greater achievement in the future.

The players and their positions are as follows: catcher, Richard Blank and Norris Nardi; pitcher, Bill Hawkins, J. B. Profit, and Herbert Dudley; first base, Bucky Corley and Jimmy Hubbard; second base, Lynn Chewning; third base, John A. Proffitt and Buster Sutton; short stop, Bill Hawkins and Bill Candler; outfielders, Tom Pruitt, James Hawkins, Stuart Sanderson, Richard Andrews, Dorsett Rollings, and J. B. Profit.

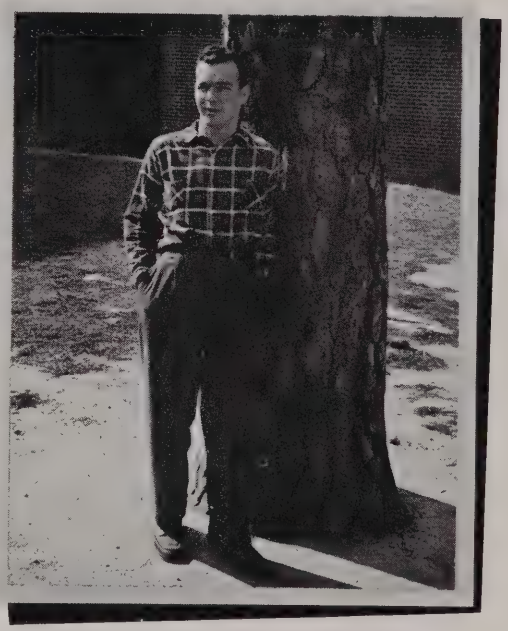
Although she is new in the school, this year, Betty Ann Gustafson (known to her classmates as "Gussie") has become the most outstanding girl athlete at Westhampton.

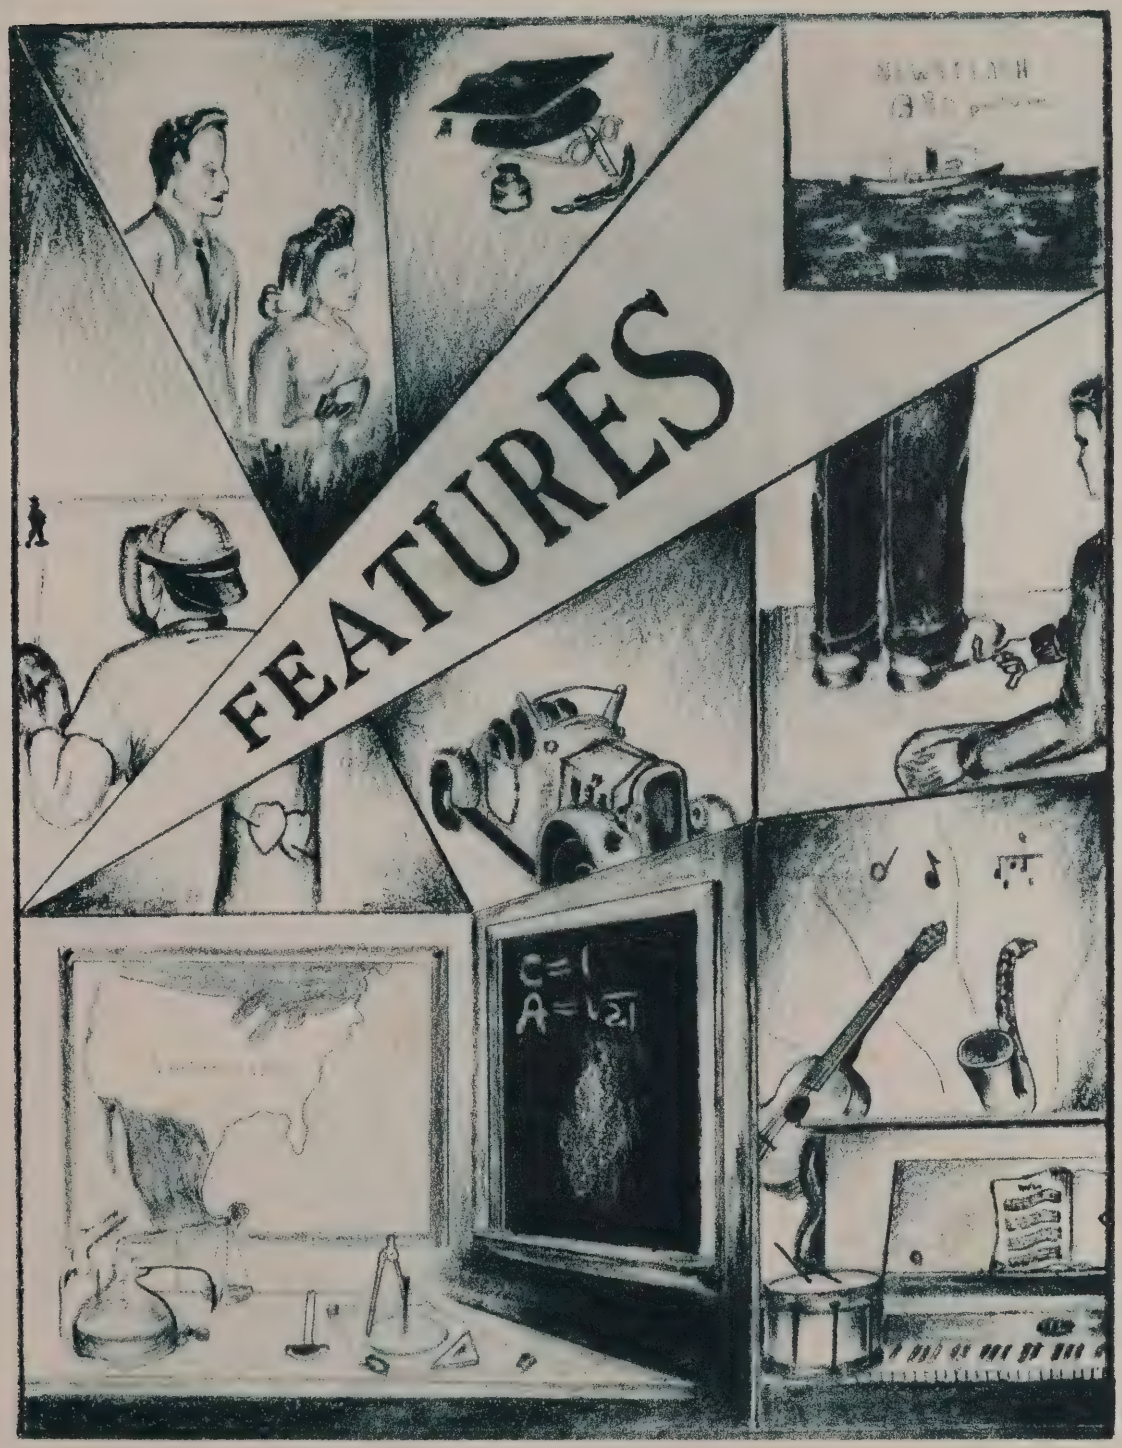
Among the first of the girls out for the newly-formed girls' basketball team, "Gussie" has played in almost all of the games this season. At every game "Gussie" was in there easily gaining possession of the ball and shooting from any and every position with deadly accuracy.

Because "Gussie" could always be depended on and because she was definitely the backbone of the team she was chosen by popular vote the best girl athlete.

WESTHAMPTON ALL-STARS

Wherever you see Westhampton boys engaged in an athletic contest you may be sure to find Jimmy Hubbard in the midst of our fighting team playing hard, clean, and fast. Slinging the pigskin, shooting the basketball, snagging the ball at his first base position, "Hubbard" has played every sport to the utmost of his ability ever since he entered high school. He probably has hidden away at home many of the letters he has won for outstanding sportsmanship. There will definitely be something lacking from Westhampton's football, basketball, and baseball teams when Hubbard graduates.





FEATURES

IT HAS been for the past three years our custom to vote for the girl at Westhampton who, to us, possesses those characteristics that we attribute to the Mother Mary—simplicity, purity, strength of character, and sweetness of personality. The girl selected portrays the Madonna by the cradle in the Christmas pageant presented annually by the Chart Club. In 1941 Ida Lee Hollingsworth was our choice. She is our idea of those qualities that, in these hard and uneasy times, are so important and significant; she represents those outstanding traits that glowed from the Mother of Christ over nineteen centuries ago—those traits that have been present in the finest womanhood throughout the years.

One reason why Betty Adams is so well liked in the student body is her subtle sense of humor—expressed at impromptu moments. Excellent work done in classes, and accomplishments at extra-curricular activities enable her to be an outstanding student. These, combined with a vivid personality and an informal manner of speech, have made her a familiar figure in every group and a vital part of school activities.

Perhaps the most striking attractions about Adelaide Savage are her friendly greetings, and happy, winsome smile. She is greatly admired for her school spirit and enthusiasm in club projects. There are very few school activities in which Adelaide does not share top honors. A charming manner, a gentle disposition, and a quiet but effective way of working have assured her the position as one of our most outstanding students.

HALL of FAME

There are a number of reasons why Leonard Rudlin will be long remembered by the student body of Westhampton High School. Chief among these is his cheerful willingness to help in any activity. Linked with this are a remarkable talent as an executive and a keen intellect. His ability to reason with others and understand their opinions has made him one of the most outstanding students in the school.

A prominent figure in the sports world and a strong leader of various school organizations is Perry Seay. Not only is he a favorite among the boys and girls of the community, but he is a decidedly good student. Always ready with a hearty laugh or witty come-back, he serves as an example of the all-around high school boy. His sound thinking and original ideas have rewarded him with the respect of the student. body.

APPRECIATION

To Miss Catherine Bentley, without whose leadership, guidance, and interest this annual would never have been printed.

To Miss Virginia Ingram, whose assistance in financial matters has been of great help to our business staff.

To Mrs. Violet Gilmer, who granted us free rein in the use of her typists and typewriters.

To Mr. W. Stirling King, whose co-operation and interest have proven invaluable.

To Mr. A. Coke Smith for his advice on camera technique.

To these, and to those many others—students and faculty members—who have given their time and efforts in helping with the publication of this second volume of Pines and Pens, the entire staff wishes to express its thanks.

More Than a Matter of Conquest

Instrumentalities of death and destruction and brave men to operate them are not all that America requires in order to bring about adequate victory in the war now raging.

The home fires—the instrumentalities of day-to-day living—also need to be kept alive. For example, the mothers, the young people, and the aged of the civilian population should be surrounded as generously as possible with future financial security. In providing security of this kind, life insurance sets up defenses that are supremely dependable.

Is The Seed of Success In You?

That is the question that every young person faces as the time draws near for him to enter the business world. If you are able to save money, you can succeed; if not, you will fail! You may not think so, but you will lose as sure as fate for the seed of success is not in you. Life insurance is the only plan which not only assists you in saving money but guarantees the safest investment and the most secure protection. When you start out on your business career, start right. Put your dollars to work and save for the future the life insurance way.

The Acid Test

The acid test for an annual comes when it is distributed among the student body. Then the planning of the staff, the work of the photographer, the ability of the printer, all are weighed under the exacting eyes of students who have every right to expect a year of their school life to be well recorded. ☆ Sixty-seven years' experience in meeting the acid test makes us all the more zealous to have each years' annual better than its predecessor.
